Please join UPMC for a two-day virtual conference where you'll have the opportunity to interact with more than 25 sports medicine leaders from the U.S. and Europe. These highly regarded experts will share information on advanced techniques and latest research in the management of sports injuries, treatment approaches, rehabilitation, and return-to-play.

The event, which is free to all attendees, will be live streamed with question and answer sessions, instant chat, and online audience polls.
